The Straight Story

Avanti Before

Avanti, a Valencia High School sophomore was tired of her out-of-control curl. Her hair-do consisted of a pony tail. Her friends had mixed feelings about her plan to have her hair chemically straightened, but her heart was set on giving it a try.

Donna, a Primarily Hair stylist trained in this service, met with Avanti for a consultation and explained the process in detail, including the importance of care afterward. Ten days after the process,

Avanti After

Avanti had this to say: "I would love to tell you about my new hair. It's light and smooth and very easy to handle. It takes me a short time to wash my hair and then it dries perfectly. When I wake up in the morning I just have to brush and go, there's not much styling involved. My hair gives me more confidence and I am not self conscious. I have gotten tons of compliments on my hair starting from the minute I walked out of your salon. My friends agree that my hair is gorgeous now and they love its texture and how it 'falls'. My haircut is great, too!"

Consultations for this process and other services are always complimentary.

Primarily Hair seeks professional stylists as independent contractors.
